

KRAMER. DURABLE PRECISION WORK.

Once per generation - that's how a lot of family companies commission us to design buildings, rooms and processes. This is based on us having more than 80 years of skill in combining classic elegance, durability and functionality at a fair price. A pleasant side effect is that we keep bringing business partners and companions together.

With this basic concept, we now create ready-to-use buildings and facilities as new constructions or conversions throughout Europe for industry, trade and crafts. The diversity of our specialist technical areas and detailed knowledge of processes in a huge number of companies from a wide range of industries are the basis for new and perfectly customised solutions.

Employees who feel comfortable and are allowed to think outside of the box are our primary force. Equipment with the highest ergonomics classification and in our CO₂-neutral building distinguish a working environment that allows the highest performance level and encourages enjoyment in working together.

We slip surprising details into our standard tasks; tricky challenges keep us awake and fit for the future.
